The Most Agreeable

As well as the most effective method of dispelling Headaches, Colds, and Fevers, or Cleansing the System, is by taking a few doses of the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter, agent.

Queer Fish.

D. Brault of the Excelsior House has a catfish on exhibition at his saloon which is all golden. In fact it looks like a gold fish. It was caught in Washoe Lake. P. M. Dupuis caught one which was a bright red.

LONGFELLOW'S BIRTHDAY.

Its Anniversary Celebrated by a Literary Entertainment.

The following delightful programme was rendered in a style fitting so pleasant an occasion.

All agreed that it was one of the most enjoyable entertainments which Carson has witnessed for a long time and creditable to all who took part. THE EUREKA OUTRAGE. This is all the Grand Jury of Eureka were able to find out about the tar and feather outrage: On the night of the 3rd of January last, Phillip Paroni was seized by a band of masked armed men, taken to the outskirts of town, stripped half naked, besmeared with tar, and with his hands bound behind him, under threats of death if he returned to town, left to perish in the storm and cold. We have investigated this affair, and while keenly realizing the stigma of disgrace under which this community continues while the perpetrators of this cowardly and inhuman outrage are undetected and unpunished, are compelled to report that we have been unable to secure testimony sufficient to warrant the indictment of the parties concerned therein. We therefore earnestly recommend the law officers of this county to use their most persistent efforts to obtain testimony in this case until the guilty parties are brought to trial and punished as they deserve. Herewith please find the reports of the various committees Respectfully, A. W. CAMPBELL, Foreman. A. SKILLMAN, Secretary.

Rough Case.

A strange story comes from Empire. It is claimed that on last Friday evening a woman of the town in this city purchased a ticket for Reno, but being drunk when she reached the depot, took the wrong train and went to Empire. The conductor noticing her mistake put her off at Empire at her request. That night it is alleged, she was found in a half drunken condition and outraged by a gang of men. She then wandered off in the hills and has not been heard of since. Several parties have been searching for her and it is feared that she perished in the cold, or was drowned in the Carson river.

THE PROSPECT WELL.

Obliged to Use Smaller Pipe to Get Through the Quartz.

Yesterday the well borers were obliged to take out 250 feet of 2-inch pipe to the prospect well in order to reach the point where their drill had penetrated 195 feet from the surface. The 3-inch pipe had been driven to the first quartz, which was eight feet thick. They were unable to drive the pipe any further, as the drill, in order to go down inside the pipe, must of a necessity be smaller, as the hole in the rock is a trifle smaller than the pipe. Soft ground was encountered after passing the second stringer, which must be piped and shut off in order that when the mineral ledge is reached nothing above will come down the hole and interfere with the correctness of the assay. By lowering a 2-inch pipe down the inside of the first and through the hole in the first and second stringers, they will be able with a smaller drill to push right ahead. Yesterday a smaller drill head was ordered at the machine shops, and if nothing happens to delay they will be able to push right ahead to the point where they expect to reach the ledge proper.

THE NORTH CARSON.

The Extension of the Lower Tunnel Ordered.

The mining excitement in this section has caused work to be resumed in the North Carson tunnel. Duffy, the old foreman, and Tom Bradley, have charge of the work, and assisted by four miners are pushing the lower tunnel. They have 300 feet to go, and expect to reach it in three months. The floor of the tunnel has been cleared out and a track laid. Duffy and Bradley have an arsenal of firearms with which to defend the works, and if any more attempts are made to jump the claim the jumpers will be warmly received. C. H. Mason, the Secretary of the company, is also in the city.

Through to Placerville.

PLACERVILLE, February, 26.—The track of the Sacramento and Placerville Railroad was laid to the city limits this morning, and the road is now virtually completed to the city.

A large force of carpenters is engaged putting the bridge over Hangtown creek, and work on the depot, roundhouse and other buildings will begin here next week.

Work upon this road was begun last August, and has been prosecuted almost continuously ever since. The line includes the second highest bridge on the Pacific Coast—the one crossing Webber creek. It is one hundred and twelve feet high and one hundred and forty feet long.

The completion of the track-laying today was witnessed by large numbers of people of this city and surrounding country. All but the last three miles of the road is ready for running passenger trains, and it is thought the first train will be run in a couple of weeks.

Wagging Tongues.

WASHINGTON, February 26.—It would be very odd if, before the close of the present Administration, Secretary Bayard should become President Cleveland's father-in-law through his marriage with Mrs. Folsom. A story to this effect has been floating about Washington for several weeks.

It is said Mrs. Folsom's present trip to Europe is for the purpose of securing her wedding trousseau, and an announcement to this effect was made recently at a West End tea. Mrs. Folsom is a lady about 45 years of age. Mr. Bayard is 60 and President Cleveland is 50.
